

Center for Healthy Churches

PASTOR COACHING

COACHING FOR
NEW AND TENURED
PASTORS

Whether you're starting fresh or seeking renewed clarity, intentional coaching can shape your ministry's impact. The first 100 days matter—focus on connection, communication, and self-care. For experienced pastors, coaching offers strategic support for navigating leadership challenges. Let's start the conversation.

People: Building Essential Relationships

External Connections

Structuring Your Time

Preaching with Purpose

Self & Family Care

Navigating Immediate Issues

Ongoing Support from the Search Committee

"Every pastor needs a pastor."

I doubted I'd benefit much from clergy coaching, but it has been a game-changer for me. The coaching sessions have strengthened my ministry both practically and theologically by expanding my toolkit, enhancing my perspective, and fortifying my soul for the unrelenting demands of the pastorate. More formative than any session, however, is the coaching relationship. "Every pastor needs a pastor," and I have found a pastor in my clergy coach.

-Noel Schoonmaker
Second Baptist, Richmond

www.chchurches.org

(877) 242-0769